there are several ways of getting free apex coins these methods are very much simple and you can do it very easily we shall list a number of the websites or places where you can earn money first and then go ahead and buy your apex coins from that money some forums open up contests from which you can get apex coins for free apex legend coins take quite a long to achieve and every player does not have that much patience to hold up and if you have been searching for apex coin generators the actual question is that is it really worth your time after collecting these points you can directly redeem them to get apex coins gift cards the earned gift cards will be delivered to you through email and the best part is that the idle empire supports all social media accounts like discord instagram etc of course there is also the more likely case that this is an error with the system something universally agreed on in the reddit comment section while the reddit user is getting roasted for snitching on himself a respawn developer has already noted that they would have eyes on this type of error regardless ah yes the circle the loot everywhere the 100 player fight to the death sure it s not super original but apex legends carves out a unique space for itself thanks to its legends fast paced movement and hero abilities new legends like loba for example cost 12 000 legend tokens or 750 apex coins each as time goes by and more updates are released we ll start seeing more legends enter the fold and they ll cost the same amount this would have resulted in the user who was supposed to get 7 000 coins have their coins be given to the reddit user instead this is an unfortunate situation and one that we hope isn t the case both the reddit user and their friend checked their credit cards to be safe
